

ARREST IN THE HUBBARD CASE

Bill Collins, Father-in-Law of Hubbard Bullock, Has Been Arrested, According to News Received Here.

In connection with the examining of the body of Hubbard Bullock, who was supposed to have died from natural causes, Bill Collins, his father-in-law, has been placed under arrest and taken to Geneva, according to news received at Sheriff May's office today.

Young Hubbard was a farmer and lived near Mableton. He died and was buried, but certain circumstances led to a belief of foul play. The people in the community started an investigation, and had the body dug up. The physicians made an examination and reached a conclusion that the man had received two blows on the back of the head, one which is supposed to have unjointed the neck, while the other fractured the skull. The examining physicians were Dr. D. G. Herring of Madrid, and Dr. Mathis, of near Cottonwood. Several other physicians are said to have been in attendance at the time the examination was made.

No one here knows how true the report is, but nevertheless one was circulated in Dothan that Hubbard is supposed to have been killed for his insurance, it being reported that he carried a policy with an insurance company.

WEBB NEWS

The weather is still dry and hot. Farmers are up with their work, and it's fine to be a farmer for we can get up with our work and go fishing. Take a crowd to the beach did last week. Went to Baymore's mill to fish, was gone two days and caught a few more, but few wish, not enough to bring home.

The small child of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas died here last Friday and was buried Saturday and amid the trouble in giving up the baby some 3 or 4 months old the little girl over 2 years old drank kerosene oil and for a while it seemed that we would have to shroud that one too.

Mr. Tom Fellows of Ashford was in town this morning.

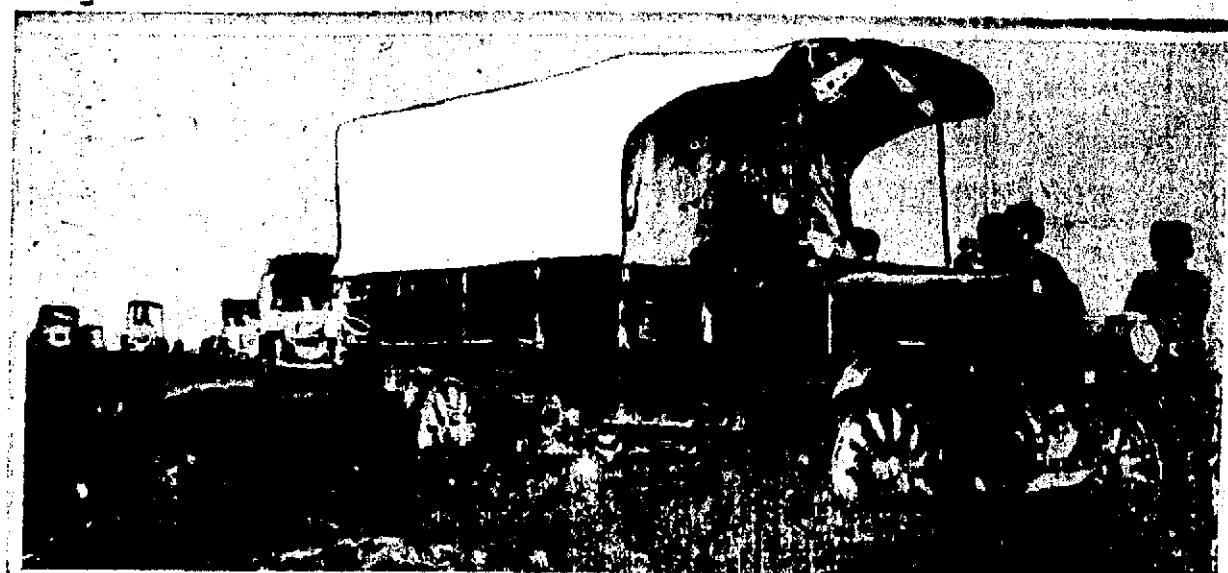

Mr. T. J. Southerland was a visitor in town today.

Mr. W. H. Woodruff of Macon, Ga., was in town last night.

We are all glad to see Mr. At-Whitten able to be out again after being sick for a week.

We are having some sickness in our town now and fear during this dry weather there will be more people taking more.

RUSSIAN MOTOR TRUCK STALLED ON ROUGH TRAIL IN POLAND

RUSSIAN MOTOR TRUCKS STALLED

The photograph shows a string of French-made automobile trucks stranded on a rough road in Poland. Lack of roads has proved a serious handicap to Grand Duke Nicholas, who has been unable to maneuver his troops with the speed and efficiency that General Hindenburg could.

France has shipped hundreds of automobiles and trucks to Russia, and they have been used to advantage in hauling supplies in Russia proper, where there is a semblance of a road system. In Poland, however, where the heavy fighting has been going on the roads are too bad to permit of use by the trucks and generally horses are relied on.

GERMAN FLEET

HUNTING BRITISH SHIPS AT SEA

London, April 25.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph says that leading German papers declare that the German fleet is willing now to accept battle in the North Sea. The entire fleet, the papers declare, several times has cruised over the North Sea vainly seeking the British fleet.

The Vossische Zeitung says the Norwegian steamer Foodin met the German fleet last Sunday off Heligoland. The German commander told the captain of the Foodin that the German fleet had one desire only—to engage the British fleet and he hoped that the British fleet might be found.

MISTRIAL IN MIZELLE CASE

The Geneva county circuit court in session last week, made a mistrial in the Mizelle case. He was being tried for the killing of Ed Stamps, in Samson, in August, 1912, and had been formerly convicted. Mizelle was mayor of Samson at the time he killed Stamps, and much interest was manifested in the case in Geneva county.

IN TOWN TODAY

Mr. W. R. McCoy who has been confined to his room so long we are glad to say is able to be up again.

Rev. Fern delivered an able sermon last night and was sad and discouraging to him not to have a good crowd to hear him, especially such pretty nights.

Mrs. Fellows returned home today after a visit for a few days to her parents in Georgia.

Mr. W. H. Temple was in town today.

We are glad to see W. D. Autley and V. L. Webb in town today.

COTTON ADVANCED

DESPITE BEARS

New Orleans, April 25.—The advance in cotton was carried to new high season levels last week against considerable opposition from the bear side and a great amount of liquidation from satisfied holders of long contracts. Much capital was made of the growing feeling of optimism in the large markets of the country and the continued improvement in general business. On these features, more than anything else, was the rise based. The highest levels were reached on Friday, when the trading months were 21 to 23 points over last week's final figures. The close was at a net gain of 7 to 18 points.

Crop news was more favorable than otherwise. Floods in Texas toward the end of the week were the only unfavorable feature of the week's crop accounts, and they resulted in a rise to new high levels for the season. It became evident that the market was much more susceptible to unfavorable than to favorable crop news.

This week weather conditions will be watched very closely, and any unfavorable developments will quickly be taken advantage of by the bulls. Too much rain or too low temperatures will have immediate and marked effect on prices. The question of average may not attract as much attention as it has because it has become generally accepted that there will be only a moderate decrease as compared with first expectations.

The technical position of the market will come in for close study. Bears charge that leading fall interests let cotton at every opportunity. Any signs of such liquidation on a large scale will encourage aggressive short selling. In some quarters it is thought that any further rise will result in considerable selling of the fall season, Dothan, Ala., purchasing at Americus, Turner Rockwell at Valdosta, E. E. Jerger at Thomasville, and George Kelly at Dothan.

MOONLIGHT DUEL

PROVES FATAL TO GEORGIA MAN

Dawson, Ga., April 25.—Cliff Pinkston shot and killed V. L. Stubbs of Webster county, late last night in Parrott in a street duel by moonlight.

News of the tragedy reached this city early this morning and an investigation and inquest was held at once. Trouble had occurred early in the evening between the two men, but it was believed to have been settled.

Stubbs went to his home, but came here later and is said to have attacked Pinkston as he was closing his store, snapping his pistol three times and firing once shooting off Pinkston's thumb, when the latter put a bullet into Stubbs' forehead.

The trouble is said to have been caused by a bicycle accident between Stubbs and Pinkston's youngest brother.

The coroner's jury after hearing witnesses in the case held that the shooting was justifiable.

MRS. LISEBY PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Lisenby, age 75, a faithful member of the Foster Street Methodist church, and beloved by her many friends, died last night after a lingering illness. For the past several days her relatives and friends had realized that there was no hope for her recovery.

Mrs. Lisenby is survived by 2 sons and two daughters. They are City Clerk R. W. Lisenby, B. Lisenby, K. Lisenby, B. H. Lisenby, Rev. H. Lisenby, A. W. Lisenby, J. S. Lisenby, and N. B. Lisenby. Her daughters are Mrs. G. H. Yelverton and Mrs. D. J. Hunt.

The funeral services will be conducted at the residence this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and interment will be made at the city cemetery. Owing to the absence of Dr. H. H. McNeill, who is out of town, the services will be conducted by Dr. W. P. Dickinson, the presiding elder, and Rev. G. K. Williams, pastor of the LaFayette Avenue Methodist church.

SCIENTISTS UNDIVIDED BY WAR ASSERTS DR. METCHNIKOFF

DR. METCHNIKOFF

Paris, April 25.—Dr. Metchnikoff, in his laboratory in Pasteur Institute said "The learned world is not at war. It is only watching the results that each man has achieved in the common war against the man-destruying, contagious, microbes."

The professor believes that war-hated is dying down and as far as the scientific world is concerned no grudges are born by savants of one nationality against those of another. He believes Europe has nothing to fear to a Russian victory, as he thinks it will insure success of the great liberal, social and political movement there.

PANAMA CITY

The first excursion of the season on the Atlanta & St. Andrews Bay R. R., was a great success from every point of view. About two hundred and fifty people from Dothan aided by excellent weather conditions, enjoyed the day to the utmost.

The train made good time and arrived in Panama City at 11:00, which gave the excursionists six hours to enjoy the bathing and bathing. The hotels gave excellent service and Mr. Murray, the genial agent of the Atlanta & St. Andrews Bay R. R., seems to be everywhere at once looking after comfort of the big crowd.

The beach at the Gulf is one of the finest on the coast and the crowd took advantage of the bathing facilities offered, launches ran back and forth from the city and at no time was there any lack of service.

A most noteworthy and commendable feature was the fact that the prices on everything were so low and reasonable as could be made. And every one got their money's worth and a little more.

Back to Work.

Los Angeles Express.

As an instance of the return of better business conditions, the fact that 10,000 men in Chicago who have been idle since January 1 have returned to work in the steel mills and factories of a single suburb of that city may be cited as a comforting example.

This intelligence is of a far greater import than the statements relative to the extraordinary activity of the arms and ammunition factories, for it heralds advancement in legitimate business. Artificial prosperity induced by the making of rifles and cartridges for use on European battlefields has no permanent bearing on the real business progress of the country. Indeed, considered by itself, it is economically and morally injurious; morally, because it is at odds with our plain duty to our brethren, and economically, because it is fraught with destruction and not construction. The reopening of the plants at Chicago Heights, after a three-months' shut down caused by a shortage of materials and the business depression, is of more significance than all the orders involving scores of millions of dollars for munitions of war.

This incident, of course, is wholly devoid of any political significance. Nevertheless, applying the old maxim, it is a poor rule that won't work both ways. It is to be remembered that President Wilson has been held almost personally responsible for the recent business depression. Every factory that closed down, every plant that suspended operations, was held by partisans to be a shameful monument to his incapacity. It would be but candor on the part of the president's partisan opponents if they were now to credit him with every expansion of industry.

If he was personally to blame for the depression, he is as personally to blame for the betterment of conditions.

Diver Oriley's Story—

Savannah News.

Some wonderful descriptions have been written of the beauty of the waters in the vicinity of Honolulu, but most of them have been written from the viewpoint of an observer ashore or in a boat or swimming on the surface. Diver Oriley, however, the man who went down 288 feet to the lost submarine F-4, has described the water from the inside looking out; from the bottom looking up. Part way down he looked up and saw a stratum of light green, but when he looked down there was a deep, dark blue. On the bottom there were no weeds, no vegetation of any sort, no fish, nothing but white sand like the slope of a hill, a beautiful beach with water rippling over it. The record dive was all in the day's work to him, but even were it not for the tragic thing lying on the white, sandy bottom the story of it stirs the land-lubber's heart. And when it is remembered that enclosed in the submarine's hull are a score of dead men, the story of the dive is made vastly interesting. For Oriley it was a job to be done, but to those who read about the doing of it was far more than just a bit of work.

At one time nearly all the murders that were committed in Jefferson county, or in that section, were charged up to Birmingham, just like all the fires in Houston and Genova counties are charged up to Dothan. Take the Montgomery Advertiser head line writer, life, the time when everyone most and when anything is sent in from Dothan by their reporter, the heading usually indicates that it was a Dothan fire. And this is a pretty big county, too.

Success.

Cleveland Press.

Few can claim a thousand personal acquaintances. The man or woman who owns one hundred friends is rare.

There is one woman in Cleveland who counts her friends by the thousand—real friends, who love and honor her.

She is a teacher of fourth grade pupils, and she has made a success in life.

Her name is Anna J. Peck, and she teaches at Giddings School. Some of her friends are grown men and women whom she taught thirty years ago. Some are the little children who bow over the desks in her room today.

Mrs. F. G. Williams, 659 East One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, who was Miss Peck's pupil in her first years at Giddings School, remembers a little incident which perhaps explains one reason why this teacher is a successful woman.

"When I was in Miss Peck's room I had a red dress trimmed with many frills," said Mrs. Williams, "and one windy day I tore it while I was playing tag in the school yard.

"My mother had forbidden me to play in the school yard and I knew she would scold me if I showed her the rent. So I told Miss Peck about it and after school she mended the dress for me."

Mrs. Williams paused and smiled.

"But she made me promise to tell my mother," she added.

"Every child in the room loved Miss Peck. You weren't called 'teacher's pet' if you cleaned blackboards or watered flowers for her.

"Instead of that you were looked upon with envy by all the other little boys and girls.

"I never saw Miss Peck walk to school alone in my life. She was always accompanied by a young army of children all crowding to walk at her side."

Miss Peck, who has consistently declined the opportunity to take the upper grades in school with higher pay, because she loves the little folks, was at her desk at Giddings.

"I taught the fifth and sixth grades in Woodland School for thirteen years," she said, as she turned from a stack of test papers before her.

"Then nineteen years ago, I came here to Giddings and was given a fourth grade. I was ever so glad to have it, for it meant that I should teach children at their most interesting age.

"I think I understand them better and can do more for them than I could for older children.

"Several times I have been asked to take higher grades, but I have always asked to be left here.

"When they are only nine or ten years old children aren't well enough acquainted with life to be flippant or hardened. They are just taking their first permanent impressions—learning that Santa Claus isn't a fairy, but the Christmas spirit of giving, for example.

"Then, too, it is the time when children are just beyond the baby stage, where they have been petted. It is the time when the real troubles of childhood—and they are very real—commence.

"I think that this is the most important time of any person's life, the time when everyone most

Genuine French Market COFFEE is Never Sold in Bulk

NO "bulk coffee" is a satisfactory substitute for French Market Coffee. For this famous old secret blend cannot be successfully imitated.

And if you pay more than the price of "French Market" for coffee, it is utter waste.

The blend of coffees that produce the rich, aromatic flavor peculiar to the genuine French Market Coffee is a secret of the French Market Mills.

Even if the right blend were known, it would be impossible to reproduce the old time French Market slow roast and grinding process only obtainable by the splendid machinery of the French Market Mills. Nowhere else could the French Market process of packing coffee, untouched by human hands, in perfectly sealed cans be reproduced.

If the leading coffee experts in the world cannot pick out the best coffees until they are roasted and served in the cup, how can you, Madam, afford to buy coffee in bulk? Let this coffee tell its own story. Serve French Market Coffee at every meal for several days. Be convinced by actual test that it is the best.

A LOVER'S QUARREL.

From the Kansas City Star.

That was a pathetic story the news dispatches carried out of Denver the other day, about the old bachelor millionaire on his death bed, who sent for:

A man to whom he had been betrothed forty years ago.

When both were young, and poor, they loved each other, and a day was set for the wedding. Before it came they quarreled over some trifling thing, as lovers always quarrel, and in the heat of his anger he went away.

The years went by and James M. Wilson became a millionaire. But his love for Carrie Hard remained, and he never married.

When he was dying last week his mind went back to the sweet heart of his youth, to the strolls with her in the starlight down the flower-scented lane, and he saw her face raised again to his, and heard her merry laughter, and there surged into his heart a feeling of remorse. Perhaps, he had wronged her in leaving her so, and a great longing came over him to see her once more before he died, if she was yet alive.

No doubt she had married, perhaps she had forgotten him. No matter, he wanted to see her.

And so, to humor him, they sent word back there to the old home town. But she was not there. Long years ago she had gone away. Where? To Denver.

They found her there, where she had lived for years, just to be near the man she loved, where she could see him once in a while without his seeing her or knowing that she was near.

His last hours were consoling by her presence and his will gives her a fortune. But that does not atone for the suffering that a trivial "lovers' quarrel" was permitted to bring into their lives.

It is a curious trait of human nature that so often men and women will allow some minor disagreement under the stress of a foolish pride, to bring them misery. Only those who are really wise learn how essential it is to make compromises, to overlook faults and failings, and to make sacrifices in recognition of the surpassing value of friendship and love.

Texas Fever

By Dr. J. A. Kierman

S. Bureau of Animal Industry.

It was discovered in 1886 that the so-called Texas fever which cattle are subjected to is caused by a microscopic body.

This small living organism was discovered, with the aid of a powerful microscope, by Drs. Smith and Kilborne, at that time employees of the Bureau of Animal

Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

A few years thereafter, Cooper

Curtice, Veterinary Inspector in the Bureau of Animal Industry, proved by a series of practical experiments, that the cause of the disease, the microscopic organism, is carried to the cattle by a particular specie of tick, which he gave a name to distinguish it from other ticks.

He experimented with all the varieties of ticks that could be found in the Southern States, but none would produce "bloody murrain" except that variety which he named "the ox loving tick." Since that day hundreds of investigators throughout the world have carried on similar experiments and have found his work accurate.

The same scientist spent many months studying the life and habits of the fever tick. When that work was completed, he published the results, which in effect is, that there are male and female ticks, the sex about equally divided in numbers. At the time the newly hatched ticks crawl up on cattle, the males and females are practically the same size. Later on the females become engorged with the cow's blood, fall to the ground, almost immediately commence the depositing of eggs, which in some cases amount to more than five thousand and small brown eggs, oval in shape and held together by a gummy substance.

In warm weather the life of the tick on the cow is from three to four weeks, during the cold months the tick is inactive, but lives on the ground either in the seed tick stage or the egg stage.

It was all developed several years ago that the fever tick would not grow upon a rabbit, squirrel, dog, cat, sheep or hog. Many statements have been made to the contrary, but to no avail, for the simple fact, that those who have carefully investigated the subject have proven beyond a peradventure that that variety of tick you must eradicate, if you want to make a success of the cattle business, will not grow upon the above mentioned animals.

The knowledge of the cattle tick is complete, and no amendments can be issued regarding it.

Within a few brief years the masses of the nation have learned the lesson of the cow tick. At first the discovery was doubted.

At times some folk declared the theory a farce and a shame. To-day there are but few doubting

Thomas in evidence because after a theory is demonstrated time after time, even the most stubborn of the nation have learned the lesson of the cow tick. At first the discovery was doubted.

MISS SYLVIA WILDER AND FRANCIS ROCHE FILLING BAGS FOR FRENCH SOLDIERS.

New York, April 25.—The photograph shows La Fayette Fund workers, Miss Sylvia Wilder and Francis Roche, filling "comfort bags" to be shipped to French soldiers in the trenches. Thousands of these bags, provided with dainties and luxuries as well as necessities, have been sent to France and the workers are still making them up.

To accomplish tick eradication in Alabama, as it did in Tennessee, it will take systematic dipping every two weeks in arsenical solution until every last tick is gone. For additional information address Bureau of Animal Industry, room 1108 Jefferson County Savings Bank Building, Birmingham, Ala.

There are those who ridiculed the theory of a heavier-than-air-machine flying through space; today, over the blood stained fields of Europe, hundreds of eyes are peering from lofty heights upon the actions and movements of the enemies' forces. Instead of calling those man-built birds "Lafayette's Follies" the world recognized them as the armies' eyes.

The cattle tick is a deadly enemy of man, because it destroys his property, his cows, steers and bulls; the whole livestock world knows that; nobody can successfully refute the fact.

The tick can be eradicated from cattle, pasture, woods, from any farm, from any county, from every State in which it exists. No body can successfully challenge that established fact.

There is some talk of the folk in your county raising cattle, which variety shall they be—quarantined, tick eaten skelton—wags that you will be ashamed to acknowledge ownership of, or free, loose-limbed, broad-backed "Holksteins, Short-Horns, Angus or Devons that may be marketed at any time, any place and for any purpose? If a dairymaid, what shall you feed for a high production of milk or to see how many families of ticks you can fatten each year?

Honest Paint and Honest Measure

United States
Standard
Measure

IN these days of counterfeits, adulterations and substitutions a man can't be too careful in buying such a commodity as paint. The ingredients of liquid paint and the processes of making it are a "closed book" to the average man, and the temptation to make big profits on most inferior grades has proven too strong for some manufacturers.

Would you know at sight whether the can contained the full U. S. standard measure?

Would you take the trouble to measure each can even if you were doubtful? Don't take chances of getting worthless paint or short measure for your money—

Be assured of full value by getting Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Liquid Paint. Its reputation is known. For thirty-five years Lowe Brothers have been making paint as well as they know, and ever looking for a way to make it better. Believing that best paint could be made only from best materials, no other materials are used in their mills.

They use the most highly perfected machinery and employ only workers of skill and experience in paint manufacture.

"High Standard" Liquid Paint wears and retains its look of freshness and newness much longer than ordinary paint; it covers a greater surface to the gallon, and spreads more evenly over that surface. It is made to give full satisfaction—and it does.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. DON'T STAY BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

"Dothan's Liver Tonic" Will Clean Your Stagnant Liver Better Than Calomel and Can Not Sicken.

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is a quick-acting and a salivator; calomel injures your liver. If you are bilious; feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dothan's Liver Tonic instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dothan's Liver Tonic is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine; your liver will be working, your head-ache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of energy, vigor and ambition.

THE SOUTH MUST FEED HERSELF

MUST KILL OUT THE CATTLE TICK—MORE LIVE STOCK IS PROFITABLE.

300,000,000 DOLLAR LOSS

Ticks Cause of Heavy Loss—Fertility of Soil Greatest Asset—$600,000,000 Spent for Food

BY PROF. P. S. HOLDEN, Director of the U. S. C. Agricultural Extension Department.

The loss to the South due to the Texas fever tick would build another Panama Canal, pay cash for it, and have several million dollars left over. This is in accordance to data furnished by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. There are about 15,000,000 head of cattle below the quarantine line. Government figures show that the complete eradication of the tick would increase their value more than $125,000,000. Added weight caused by the absence of the tick would add another $50,000,000. The death toll due directly and indirectly to the cattle tick amounts yearly to $25,000,000. The comparison in milk flow shows a profit of more than $4,000,000 in favor of tick-free cattle. Leather is valuable and hides are increasing in price. Buyers tell us that hides from tick-free cattle are worth on an average of about 3 cents a pound less than others. The loss from hides amounts to the amazing sum of $18,000,000. The loss from hides alone is more than enough to free the South of the cattle tick. The neglect of the most important phase of farming—livestock growing—is costing the South untold wealth and development every year.

Pests have held counties back—kept them from developing—but I know of no pest that could be as easily and permanently eradicated that has affected any section as the cattle tick has the South. It has been the millstone that has everything but drowned us. An earthquake, fire, or great battle destroying $100,000,000 worth of property would mean but history with a terrible significance, yet this tremendous leakage goes on continuously and we heed it not. It is time we should eradicate the tick. The obligation rests on the business men and farmers to hold shipping tags and free the country of this costly pest. This will be one of the best investments that can possibly be made. The first great lesson that the history of agricultural countries teaches us is that no state will ever become permanently prosperous until it feeds itself. The South will never feed itself until the Texas fever tick is gone.

Must Raise Food.

The three main requirements of man are food, clothing and shelter, worth more than two thousand dollars.

Several very choice lots on west Main street that can give good bargains in and very easy terms.

A beautiful lot right near City High School very cheap and very easy terms.

Beautiful six or seven room house, large nice barn and acre and a half lot on S. St. Andrews street for 3000.00, a big bargain.

A splendid home on East Main street in very choice neighborhood on the corner.

Your druggist or dealer tells you a 50 cent bottle of Dothan's Liver Tonic under my personal guarantee that it will clean your stagnant liver better than any calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dothan's Liver Tonic because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dothan's Liver Tonic to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable, liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.

and the first and most important of these is food. If a state or section of a country does not produce its own food, conditions will arise which will either cause scarcity of something to eat or abnormal prices—either of which are bound to work hardships resulting in general discouragement and distress. The South is naturally a cotton producing section. It is her duty to produce cotton and clothe the world. But she will never be the agricultural country she ought to be and can be until she produces at home the food and feed for her people and her livestock. She should raise what she feeds and feed what she raises. The board bill of the cotton producing states amounts to over $800,000,000 annually. This money goes to northern food producers—making the farmers of the corn belt states prosperous—building good roads, schools, churches and making other improvements in those sections. This amount of money kept at home would do the same thing for the Southern States.

Live at Home.

A study of methods followed by farmers in other sections show that they have plans that are not expensive, but on the other hand, are simple and can be used by anyone. Their plan is this: Every farmer has a garden that produces vegetables for home consumption; he keeps from a 100 to 200 industrious hens that produce eggs and meat for the family use and some to sell, with which money groceries and other necessities are bought. Every man raises his own pork and keeps cows enough to produce milk and butter for home use.

The raising of cattle has a business ring about it. Livestock is the basis of permanent agriculture. The fertility of the soil is our greatest asset, and soil fertility can never be maintained without the use of livestock. This has been proven over and over again by experiments. If the South were free of the cattle tick it would be a great livestock country. She has the climate, the abundant water supply, and can raise a great variety of feeds. Recent prizes won in the International Stock Show indicate what the South can do in competition with other states if she were only free of the cattle tick. Ticks and debts of cattle and bank accounts! Which?

PRESERVE EGGS FOR WINTER

Better Price Can Be Obtained During Winter Months—Method of Preserving Easy.

By Earl S. Gorton, Associate in Animal Husbandry, Alabama Experiment Station.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala. In order to have plenty of eggs for winter use at a low cost, people should plan to preserve their eggs at this season of the year. Eggs which sell at only 15 and 20 cents per dozen during the spring and summer can, if properly preserved, be sold for 30 to 40 cents per dozen during the winter when eggs are scarce. There are several methods which can be followed. The water glass method, which is one of the most satisfactory, is as follows:

If possible, have a cool, dark cellar in which the temperature does not rise above 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Clean stone jars have been found to be the best receptacles. They should be of pitch also as to hold about 15 dozen eggs. To ten quarts of clean boiled water, which has been allowed to cool, add one quart of water glass and stir until thoroughly mixed.

Good, clean, sound eggs should be placed in the jar and the liquid poured over them until they are completely covered by one inch of the solution. When the receptacle is not covered there is an excess of evaporation which is followed by the mixture turning a milky white. In this the eggs do not keep well. Place the receptacle in the coolest place to be found and away from all sunshine. This method has been found to preserve eggs from one month to a year.

Eggs will keep much better from a jar where there is no rooster than from one where the rooster is allowed to run with the hens. This is due to the fact that in the absence of all roosters the eggs are not fertilized and they keep better.

HALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then The Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have back-ache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region get about 4 ounces of Jad Salts from many good drug stores here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

THE BAPTIST REVIVAL AT MILLEN, GA.

The atmosphere in Millen has more of the grace of God in it at this time than it has had during the past two years.—that is if we are any judge. In the beginning of the revival at the Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. R. L. Bolton, and Dr. E. H. Jennings made it plain that they could not have a soul stirring meeting without the assistance of each and every Christian in the city. Therefore, certain work was assigned to members of the church, and, if all signs don't fail, they have been doing their work well.

Dr. Jennings is not a Billy Sunday nor a Sam Jones, but a quiet, forceful and untiring worker, filled with the grace of God, and a man like this can move mountains anywhere. Men like this count in any vocation of life, and when their work is finally ended, their reward is the kind that we should strive for.—Millen (Ga.) News.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER MACHINES

This International Harvester Engine Fills Your Needs

THIS I H C hopper-cooled engine meets the demand for an engine that can easily be mounted on a farm truck, making a portable outfit for use with special machinery, such as well drills, concrete mixers, saws, and portable pumping plants. The outfit is very compact, the weight moderate yet sufficient, and a comparatively small amount of water is needed for cooling. In a hopper-cooled engine there is also less danger of harm from freezing as the open top of the hopper allows the water to expand. This engine contains all the good features mentioned in our previous advertisements and many others which you will appreciate when you see them. It is one of the most satisfactory engines made, from the point of view of economy. It starts and runs with the steadiness of a steam engine, and we know of no better machine for the rough, heavy work of the average farm.

WILT RESISTANT COTTON VARIETIES

SOME VARIETIES ALMOST ENTIRELY IMMUNE TO WILT OR NEMATODE INJURY.

COOK NO. 307-6—NEW WILT RESISTANT STRAIN ORIGINATED AT AUBURN

Yields Well, and Turns Out About 35 Per Cent. Lint—is Not an Early Variety.

By E. F. Cuthbert, Associate Agriculturalist, Alabama Experiment Station, Auburn, Ala.

The number of wilt resistant varieties of cotton has increased during the past few years. The farmer who has wilt or blackroot in his cotton land can select from them a variety that conforms to his idea of a good cotton.

None of the varieties are entirely immune to wilt or nematode injury, but any of those mentioned below will increase the yield from almost nothing on badly infested lands to almost one hundred per cent. of a crop.

DILLON. Of the different wilt resistant varieties Dillon is the oldest, and withstands the disease to a greater extent than any other variety. However, it is not well liked by many farmers because it grows very tall on fertile land and because the bolls form in clusters, are small, and difficult to pick. It yields well, and turns out about 35 per cent. lint. It is not an early variety.

WOOD. A variety grown extensively on southeast Alabama, known under the name of Wood, Red Wood, Rose or Anthonight, is somewhat like the Dillon in that it has small bolls, is tall, and makes a very large growth on fertile land. It is unlike Dillon in that it has several wood limbs, longer fruit limbs and is much easier picked.

COVINGTON-TOOLE WILT RESISTANT. This variety makes a small plant, is early, has small bolls and picks easily. It yields well and turns out about 35 per cent. of lint.

The wilt resistant variety of Covington-Toole should be distinguished from ordinary Covington-Toole, which does not resist wilt disease or nematodes.

DIXIE. Dixie is a small-boll, low-limb, variety that has proven very satisfactory on badly infested lands. It is medium early, not hard to pick, and yields a good per cent. of lint.

COOK 307-6. This is a new strain of Cook, originated by the Alabama Experiment Station. It has medium size bolls, picks very early, is early, yields well and turns out a good per cent. of lint. There are very few seeds of this strain, and it has not yet been grown extensively. The supply of seed has been exhausted.

TRICOOK. This is a new variety that is promising. It combines some of the good qualities of both Cook and Triumph.

There are some other good wilt resistant varieties, but for lack of space they are not described here.

PREVENTING WORMY PEACHES

Two or Three Sprayings With Aerate of Lead Will Do the Work.

By W. E. Hinds, Entomologist, Alabama Experiment Station, Auburn.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

The worms occurring in peaches, plums, etc., are the grubs of a weevil known as the plum curculio. These weevils pass the winter as adult beetles, emerging in the spring by the time peach trees begin to bloom. They occur also abundantly on the wild plums which are commonly permitted to grow in thickets on our farms. By the time the peaches occur on them in large numbers and if nothing is done to control them there is little chance of producing profitable crops of attractive fruit.

It is easily possible, however, as to control the curculio as to produce from 75 to 90 per cent. of perfectly sound fruit instead of losing from 50 to 90 per cent. as is commonly the case where no treatment is applied. The treatment consists in applying two or three sprayings to the young fruit. The first spraying should be made in from 10 to 15 days after the trees are in full bloom or at the time that the blossoms are beginning to slip away from the young fruits. In this spraying use at the rate of 1 1/2 or 2 lbs. of neutral arsenate of lead with about 3 lbs. of freshly slaked lime per barrel of 60 gals. of water. After about two weeks give a second spraying, using about 2 lbs. neutral arsenate of lead with each barrel, but in this case instead of using simply the lime solution, put the arsenate of lead into what is known as self-bolled lime-sulfur solution. Directions for making the self-bolled lime-sulfur are given in Alabama Bulletin No. 142. The use of these two sprays will

The Generalissimo of France

(Atlantic Monthly)

People wrongly speak of Joffre as the great Taciturn. It is true that he cannot speak in public and prefers silence to the ordeal of attempting what he knows he cannot do well; but all his friends are unanimous in describing him as a sociable, gay, a genial person. The many Parisians who have met him of a summer morning, merrily riding in the Bois with his stepdaughters, are sure that this powerful horseman with an open countenance and the shrewdest eyes to light it up, is no mere cold-blooded scientist. In fact, all who have felt the presence of a willing source of inner conviction which may not be enthusiasm, but which creates it.

What is this particular faith the contagion of which nobody can resist? Nothing more than the certainty of victory, but in a degree which nobody else has attained, and with a background of judgment which cannot be mistaken for mere sanguineity. That is the conviction Joffre communicates not only to his military collaborators, but also to the five or six cabinets which have succeeded one another since 1911.

Even the last two, which consisted of radicals who were opposed to the three-year service law, who inclined to pacifism, and who must have been startled when the Joffre system was applied to them, have been spraying us with their own brand of pacifism. They have not only the curculio and the brown rot at the same time. To secure very real results, a third spraying may be needed about two weeks after the second, using the same combination of materials as for the second treatment. Alabama Press Bulletin No. 44 describes this work more fully.

written proof was placed before them of the aggressive intentions of Germany, were reassured on the eve of the formidable war by something irresistible in the voice of the generalissimo.

Sinners All—Or Saints?

(Southern Woman's Magazine)

Women mourn and rail at man's unfaithfulness, but it is only fair to remember, when such shortcomings are brought up against woman, that Lilith was just as truly a woman as was Eve. In our accusations and recriminations we too often forget that man's faithfulness to a good woman is usually encouraged by the wiles of a bad one, and that more often than not a woman stands at each end of the path that stretches from heaven to hell.

We forget, too, by what fair and lovable things a man may be held to the fair and honest ways of life. An eager comradeship with him in the things for which he cares, good humor in sunshine as well as in storm, an easy going conscience as to the smaller duties of life, and an abiding love for frills and lace, these are the gentle virtues that will serve to keep sweet and eager to the sweetest masculine heart.

Good women have a world of sin and sorrow for which to atone, and a recent chance remark of a famous writer has more truth in it than we always care to believe. "When good women are too good," she said, "to be peaceful, dainty and sweet, they are being as faithless to their marriage vows as are the tired husbands who no longer pay them homage."
